

Selected undergraduate student honors and future plans:

Ashley Bales has been accepted into the Ph.D. program of the New York Consortium of Evolutionary Primatologists at New York University

Sarah Elsasser will start Columbia University's Museum Anthropology graduate program this fall

Alexandra Galvin will be studying law at the College of William and Mary

Stephanic Greshman is moving to Washington, D.C. to work

Jessica Joganic has been accepted a fellowship to begin the Ph.D. program in anthropology at Washington University in St. Louis and has earned a Fulbright Teaching Assistantship to Thailand

Martin Petrovic will be attending Bastyr University for naturopathic medicine

Scott Sandowsky has been accepted into the master's program in occupational therapy at New York University

Margaret Watjen received the Sage Family Southeast Asian Studies Scholarship and the Guilford A. Dudley Memorial Research Award which support study abroad and recognize scholastic excellence

Eva Wingren earned a Fulbright and will be going to Malaysia to teach English and conduct ethnographic interviews on the interplay of Western and traditional health care

Selected graduate student honors and future plans:

Kierstin Catlett was one of 22 outstanding graduate students out of 69 nominated, who won a Teaching Excellence Award from the ASU Graduate and Professional Students Association, which included a monetary prize

Sarah Clayton earned a dissertation writing fellowship from the School for fall 2007

Destiny Crider, Scott Ortman, Alanna Ossa and Kristi Lewton earned NSF Doctoral Dissertation Research Improvement Grants

Kelly Harkins, a first-year bioarchaeology student, was awarded an NSF Graduate Fellowship

Jaime Holthuysen earned a 2007-2008 research grant award from the ASU Graduate and Professional Student Association

Eric Johnson and Oona Parades earned ASU Graduate College Spring 2008 Doctoral Completion Fellowships

Eric Johnson and Melissa Kruse earned Dean's Advance Scholarships

Melissa Kruse earned a dissertation seed grant from the National Center for Airborne Laser Mapping; was Co-PI for a Frontiers in Life Sciences Conference Series; and secured a travel grant from ASU's Graduate and Professional Student Association

Kristi Lewton won the L.S.B. Leakey Foundation's Doctoral Research Grant

Cathryn Meegan earned third place in the University Libraries Book Collecting Contest

Caley Orr was one of only 20 Arizona State University Graduate College Dissertation Fellowship awardees for 2008-2009, earning a $17,000 stipend and tuition.

Scott Ortman was awarded a dissertation fellowship from the Carnegie Mellon Foundation

P.J. Perry earned an ASU Graduate School Dissertation Fellowship for 2007-2008

Luz Pfister won the AAAG "Outstanding student presentation in anthropological genetics" at the recent AAPA meetings in Ohio

Eleanna Prevedorou won a scholarship for her graduate studies from the Alexander S. Onassis Public Benefit Foundation; and a travel grant for archaeological science research in Greece from the Wiener Laboratory of the American School of Classical Studies at Athens

Heather Smith won the School's Dissertation Writing Fellowship for spring 2008 and was a finalist in the student prize competition at the American Association of Anatomist's annual conference

Amy Shapiro, Rhian Stotts and Andrea Torvinen received honorable mention for their submissions to the NSF Graduate Research Fellowship Program

Rex Weeks has received a Ford Foundation Fellowship, which will support his dissertation research on the antiquity of the Grand Medicine Society of the Ojibwa Native Americans of Canada

Lee Zelewicz earned a Graduate College Doctoral Enrichment Fellowship from 2006-2008 which the School will continue through 2009

PREPARE TO MAKE A DIFFERENCE